Chamber Music Institute Information (summer program)

The Chamber Music Institute provides an opportunity for young musicians to collaborate in chamber music settings with other talented students while under the tutelage of professional musicians and instructors. This is a program at the University of Indianapolis and applications must be postmarked by May 17, 2010. I have a copy of the brochure that I will e-mail to those who request it, but because of the difficulty in e-mailing attachments will only send to those who request it. Information may also be found at the UIndy website or through the CMI Facebook page.
