Great concert last week! I've heard so many words of praise - I hope you're proud of your performance. Mrs. Kitterman, New World's Artistic Director, was in attendance and was very impressed. You've all come a long way since your first rehearsal together back in August.

This week we will collect music from the first concert and hand out some new pieces. Be ready to do this at check in this week.

We will also have someone new at the check-in table so be prepared to give your full name because this will be a first opportunity to learn everyone's names!

Thanks to Linda and Kim Ainza for working the check-in table for the first part of the season!

Thank you to all of those who helped with set-up and clean-up at the concert. We also had plenty of snacks and drinks thanks to a few very generous families - thank you all!

November 15 New World concert tickets are now available - www.indianapolissymphony.org. Orchestra participants do not need tickets; enough seats are reserved for all three orchestras.

Sponsorships: I have a check that does not have a paper identifying the student to be sponsored. Please let me know if Harold and Patricia Watkins are sponsoring you.
